Register your account on our MoveUP Member Portal to make sure you don't miss out any information from us. Register at memberportal.moveuptogether.ca. You can add/ update your contact information, as well as find membership forms, look up the status of any active grievances, and vote to ratify your collective agreement when the time comes!

You've joined MoveUP! So what happens next?

01.

Meet your new union!

We will host a meeting either at our office or virtually where you will get a chance to meet your president, vice-president, union representative, and lead negotiator among others.

02.

Expressions of interest for key roles

We will be recruiting for job stewards as well as for members to join the bargaining committee. You must be a job steward to be on the bargaining committee. Training will be provided.

03.

You tell us what are your priorities

We will send out an anonymous survey for you to fill out. Your bargaining committee will review the results and work with your negotiator to create proposals based on your priorities.

04.

It's time to bargain!

Your bargaining committee and negotiator goes to the bargaining table with your employer. Once we have a tentative agreement, you will review the terms and vote on whether to ratify!

05.

Congratulations! You have an agreement!

Thanks to your participation, we now have an agreement! During the term of the agreement, your union representative will provide service to ensure it is being followed. As the agreement nears expiration, we will restart this process from Step 2.

Did you know?

After the labour board certifies MoveUP as your bargaining agent, your employer cannot make any unfavourable changes to your working conditions for 12 months or until your first agreement is ratified, whichever comes first.

If anything changes in your working conditions, please reach out to your job steward immediately.

Other good to know information

Your points of contact

Your point of contact will be your job steward. Your job steward can help you address issues at your workplace, and can escalate concerns to your union representative if necessary.

Additional expressions of interest

Looking for ways to get involved? You can consider joining the Health & Safety Committee at your workplace, or joining other union committees. See our website for more information.
